

Monday 28th Oct

This year I visited the Touchstones Gallery in Rochdale where an exhibition by a sculptor called Rachel Kneebone was on view. The sculptures were based on dance and movement. Tonight is the first part of a 4 week project to produce sculptures similar to those of Rachel Kneebone

Tonight Ema Couteleau is going to do some contemporary dance with poses within the dances. She will be using a ball, ribbon and flowers within the dances. These may be part of your sculptures. So at the end of the evening you should have some sketches of Ema which you can work on and develop next week.

monday 4th nov

This is the second part of the project.

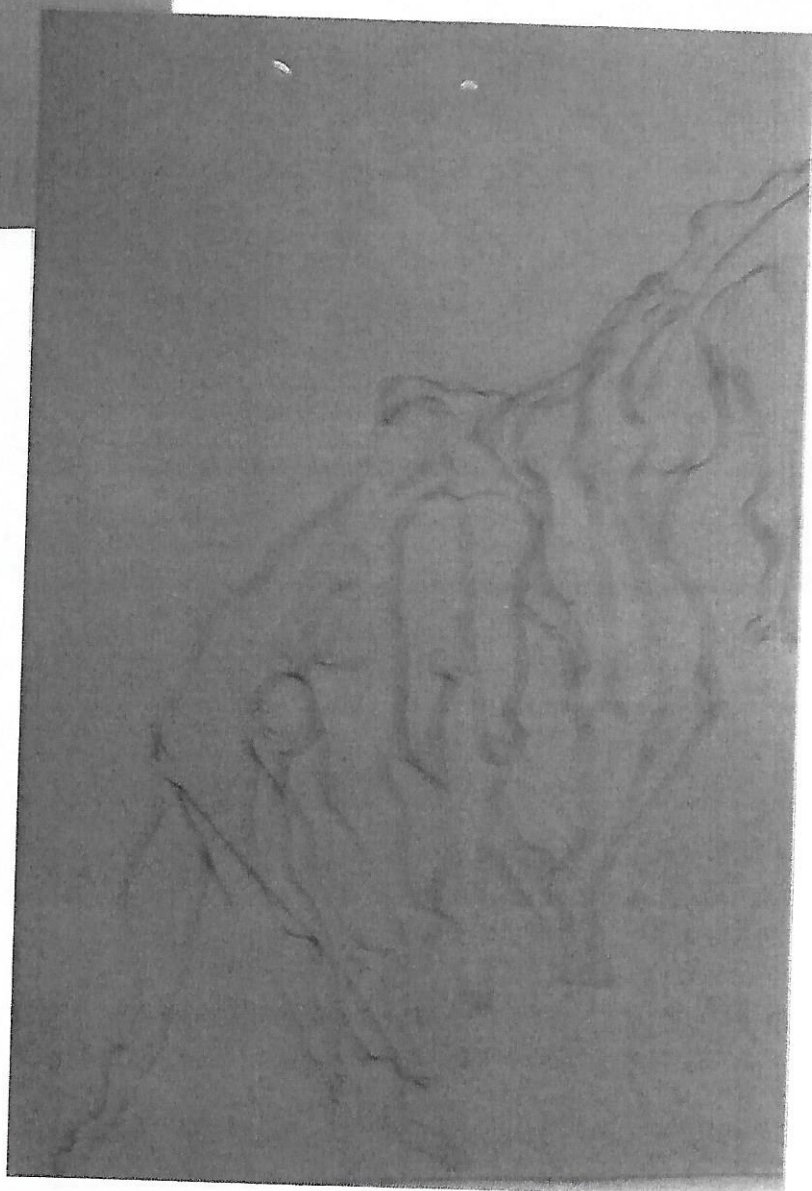

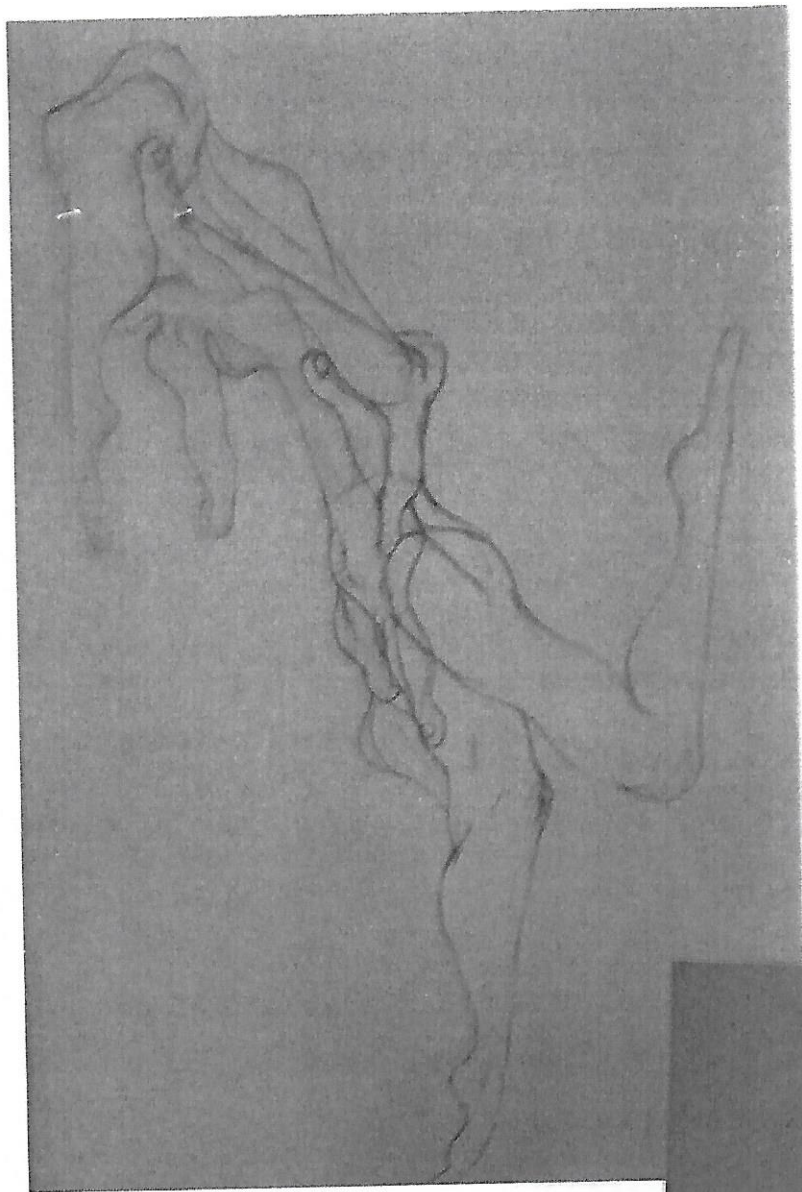

Using the sketches from last week, develop images of form or movement which you can then transfer into components for your sculpture. To give you some idea, I have included a couple of design developments as done by Rachel Kneebone. I hope they help but if not come and have a chat.

What you need

Paper
pencil
eraser

Monday 11th and 18th Nov

This is the third and fourth parts of the project.

In these two weeks you can put your ideas from last week into three dimensional form to create your sculpture. Some of the sculptures produced by Rachel Kneebone are shown in the next two pages.

What you will need

Air drying clay

Sculpting tools

newspaper to cover the work area

Water container

Base board (this will be provided by me.)

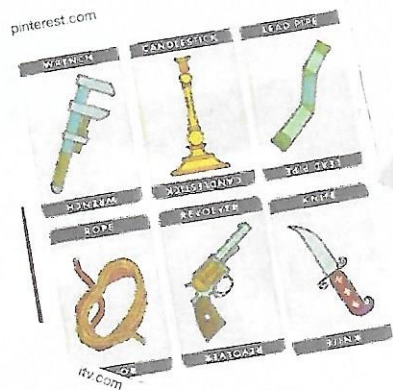

Monday 25th nov

Tonight we have Gemma returning. In this session she will model in the guise of the character of Miss Scarlet as seen in the game of Cluedo. She will be joined by several other characters.

Nowadays one of the most important changes in our lifestyles is the changes which are or will occur in our urban environment.

Tonight produce a picture which depicts an urban change ( shops closing ., pubs closing, grafetti, or general dereliction).

when we think of a piece of art which depicts ourselves it invariably involves a self portrait. However, another aspect of ourselves which is truly unique to us is our fingerprints. Tonight take a thumb print of yourself and then draw it and paint it in a way that represents your character.

the christmas do

"Of course, when I first started here, the North Pole looked very different."

"So they bring a tree in the house and put all these shiny, dangling things on it, then freak out if I go near it ... This is why I drink."

"OK. You see me when I'm sleeping. You know when I'm awake ... but no way you follow me on Twitter, right?"

"THREE WISE MEN RADIOED IN TO SAY THE ENEMY CAN NOW SEE US."

"Santa's bringing the tires next year."
